Fishing in Gallatin County

Gallatin County is home to a wide variety of fish species, including largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, spotted bass, bluegill, redear sunfish, catfish, crappie, and more. The Kentucky River and Rough River are the main waterways in the county, but there are also numerous smaller streams and lakes that offer excellent fishing opportunities.

Bass Fishing

Gallatin County is known for its exceptional bass fishing. The Kentucky River is a particularly productive bass fishery, with anglers regularly catching fish over 5 pounds. Largemouth bass and smallmouth bass are the most common species, but spotted bass can also be found in some areas.

Catfish Fishing

Catfish are another popular target species in Gallatin County. The Kentucky River is home to a large population of channel catfish and blue catfish, with fish over 20 pounds being caught regularly. Flathead catfish are also present, but they are less common.

Panfish Fishing

Panfish, such as bluegill, redear sunfish, and crappie, are abundant in Gallatin County's lakes and streams. These fish are a great option for beginners and families, as they are relatively easy to catch and provide plenty of action.

Floating in Gallatin County

Floating is a great way to experience the beauty of Gallatin County's waterways. The Kentucky River and Rough River are both popular float trip destinations, offering scenic views, wildlife sightings, and plenty of opportunities for swimming and fishing.

Kentucky River Float Trip

The Kentucky River float trip is a classic Kentucky adventure. The river flows through a deep gorge, with towering cliffs and lush forests lining the banks. Anglers can expect to catch bass, catfish, and panfish throughout the float.

Rough River Float Trip

The Rough River float trip is a more secluded and peaceful option. The river flows through a rural area, with rolling hills and farmland providing the backdrop. Anglers can expect to catch bass, catfish, and crappie in the Rough River.

Planning Your Trip

To make the most of your fishing or floating trip to Gallatin County, it's important to plan ahead. Here are a few tips to help you get started:

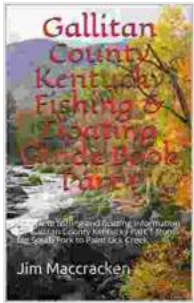

* Check the fishing and floating regulations for Gallatin County. * Free Download a Kentucky fishing license if you plan on fishing. * Bring the appropriate gear for your chosen activity. * Be prepared for changing weather conditions. * Respect the environment and pack out what you pack in.
