Fishing the Waters of Morrow County

Morrow County boasts a diverse range of fishing opportunities, catering to all skill levels. Whether you're casting a line for elusive largemouth bass or trolling for trophy catfish, you're sure to find the perfect spot here.

Lakes

- Indian Lake: Spanning over 5,000 acres, Indian Lake is a haven for fishing enthusiasts. Its clear waters and diverse habitat support a thriving population of largemouth bass, bluegill, crappie, and catfish.
- Lake Erie: Just a short drive from Morrow County, Lake Erie offers world-class fishing for walleye, perch, bass, and steelhead trout.

Rivers

- Olentangy River: The Olentangy River is a tributary of the Scioto River and provides excellent fishing for smallmouth bass, catfish, and saugeye.
- Whitelick Creek: This smaller stream offers a more intimate fishing experience and is known for its abundance of trout and panfish.

Floating the Scenic Waterways

Beyond fishing, Morrow County offers an array of serene waterways perfect for kayaking, canoeing, and tubing. Explore the tranquil waters of the Olentangy River, glide through the narrow channels of Whitelick Creek, or embark on a leisurely float down the scenic Kokosing River.

Kayaking Routes

- Olentangy River Upper Section: Launching from the Delaware Dam, this 7-mile stretch of the Olentangy River offers a mix of calm waters and gentle rapids.
- Olentangy River Lower Section: Extending from Glacier Ridge Metro Park to Alum Creek State Park, this 9-mile section is more challenging, with numerous Class II-III rapids.

Canoeing Trails

- Whitelick Creek: This 9-mile canoe trail winds through a secluded forest valley, providing a peaceful escape from the hustle and bustle of everyday life.
- Kokosing River: A popular destination for canoeists and paddlers, the Kokosing River offers a scenic 14-mile float through rolling hills and dense foliage.
