For river fishing, consider using live bait such as worms or minnows, or opt for artificial lures that mimic the local forage. In lakes, trolling with crankbaits or spinnerbaits can prove effective, while casting jigs or plastic worms near structure is a productive technique for targeting bass.

Local anglers are a treasure trove of valuable information. Engage with them at bait shops or fishing forums to glean insights into the best spots, seasonal patterns, and effective bait and lures. Their knowledge will help you refine your approach and increase your chances of landing that elusive catch.
